

AFRICAN PROGRAMME ON RETHINKING DEVELOPMENT ECONOMICS - 2017

The African Programme on Rethinking Development Economics (APORDE), in association with Wits School of Governance has the pleasure to invite you to the following evening seminar:

Chinese firms and investments in Africa: Patterns, Variation and Dynamics

Lecture by Dr Carlos Oya

Topic: Alongside the massive growth in the exports of Chinese products to African countries there has been an increasing and significant growth in the presence of Chinese firms in Africa, whether as investors or contractors. The changing nature of this relationship brings into sharp focus the role that China is now playing in contributing to industrialisation in a number of African countries.

The presentation by Dr Carlos Oya will focus on Chinese firms and investments into Africa and discussing firm behaviour including the various drivers and dynamics of these investments. His presentation will consider both a macro and micro perspective.

Date: Monday 11 September 2017

Time: 18h00 for 18h30 (refreshments will be provided)

Venue: Main auditorium, Wits University School of Governance, 2 St Davids Place (cnr St Andrews Road), Parktown, Johannesburg

Chairperson: Garth Strachan (the dti)

RSVP by email: Daphney@tips.org.za

ABOUT THE SPEAKER

Carlos Oya has degrees in Economics from Universidad Complutense of Madrid and SOAS (MSc Econ) where he also did his PhD in Development Economics. He worked for several years in government in Mozambique, where he did extensive field research on rural labour markets and rural poverty. He was also lecturer at the University Eduardo Mondlane in Mozambique and is visiting lecturer at Universidad Complutense (Madrid) and at the Graduate Institute of International and Development Studies in Geneva.

His main research interests are: agrarian political economy, political economy of development, development policy, employment, poverty, rural labour markets, development aid, and research methodology. Carlos is now leading two large research projects: one looking at comparative labour conditions and outcomes in Chinese companies in Ethiopia and Angola in construction and manufacturing; and a systematic review of the effects of certification schemes for agricultural production on workers' and producers' wellbeing. He is also co-editor of the Journal of Agrarian Change.

About the APORDE programme: APORDE is a two-week high-level annual seminar that brings together academics, policy-makers and civil society representatives to investigate economic development options. It is aimed at building capacity in the South, particularly in Africa and founded on the need to broaden perspectives on development thinking and policymaking.
